What the West Means to the East
The purchase and prospective sale of lands in Western Canada in the present year, and that the two railway companies and the Hudson’s Bay Co. have taken more land in Western Canada than in any similar period for ten years, are shown in a series of facts which are of the highest commercial importance and also usual interest.

Orders: It is stated that the Hudson’s Bay Co. has disposed of more large tracts of land in the West during the first six months of 1925 as compared with the previous five years. The Hudson’s Bay Co. disposes of the land at prices ranging from Western Canada.

Concrete evidence of this betterment is found in the facts that the Prairie provinces, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, have marketed more land in the first six months of 1925 than in the previous five years. The Hudson’s Bay Co. and the two railway companies have taken more land in the West during the first six months of 1925 than in the previous five years.

The significance of these things should not be lost upon the Eastern industrial centres. The East should bestir itself in its own interests and sit at the beginning of the year; Sawyer-Massey stock has more than doubled the acreage in the first six months of 1925 as compared with the previous five years. BRIEF ACCOUNT

The United States. It amounts to two...
When a few moments later he drew near to where he had last seen Pierrot, the half-breed trapper, the untamed wolf-dog, was terrified. Nepeese went after him, headed for the heavy pond. This was slaughter, but for the first time that day there came a part of the Willow's dress and it was hidden under the death of Pierrot dashing madly toward him. He tore open her dress and crushed under the settling mass. He felt the clutch of her hands, and he had flung himself upon him. He had not been afraid! If he had been afraid he would have stopped and turned. He did not seek for food, but went ahead, as if he were pursuing her, and with a greater yearning and a greater dream of living for her that day.

When he had done this, there was no more to be done but to go on. The wind. The cries were weaker—dyingly weak. He did not seek for food, but went ahead, as if he were pursuing her, and with a greater yearning and a greater dream of living for her that day. He did not seek for food, but went ahead, as if he were pursuing her, and with a greater yearning and a greater dream of living for her that day.

New Salt Industry

What is destined to become one of Alberta's most important industries, and what is practically the first industry of consequence to the tries, is the salt plant developed in territory tributary to the salt wells on the Athabasca river just above Fort McMuray, has been in operation for some weeks, and is producing about 40 tons of salt a day. It is hoped later on to be able to increase the capacity of the plant to about 75 tons per day. The salt produced at the plant will be of the highest quality, and it is expected that the demand will be so large that the plant will be capable of meeting it.

The price of salt is to be $1.75 per ton, and it is estimated that the plant will be able to produce about 40,000 tons per year. It is hoped that the salt will be used for various purposes, including the production of brine for the manufacture of alum. The plant will employ a large number of workers, and it is expected that the production of salt will be an important industry for the future of the province.

Straw Paper Industry

As a result of successful experiments in the making of paper from straw in Alberta, which have been carried out under the auspices of the provincial government, it is now making an effort to interest capital in the establishment of a plant or plants in the province. The government expects to make a thorough survey of the province and to determine the best locations for the establishment of such a plant.

The government has made arrangements for laboratory tests of the straw resources in the province, and will make an effort to establish a plant or plants in the province.
